

Graduate & Continuing Studies

Stephens College has a history of adapting its programs to meet the needs of students seeking to fulfill their educational goals. Since 1833, the College has developed many innovative programs in women's residential education and coeducational continuing education.

Stephens offers graduate programs for women and men that meet demonstrated needs in the professions and that correspond to the College's academic strengths. Our graduate programs are designed primarily for non-traditional students currently active in professional careers. The faculty maintains graduate programs with the aid of professional advisory groups so that program content will reflect both current theory and real-world application. Courses are taught by highly qualified Stephens' faculty and professional adjunct faculty.

Stephens College does not discriminate on the basis of race, age, religion, sexual orientation, national/ethnic origin or disability in administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarships and loans, and other College-administered programs.
